GO DEEPER

use these questions for further study

Share with the Group

What is your coping mechanism for when life is hard? What are you most likely to do when you are feeling cheerful?

Read James 5:13-18

In your own words, why is James' response to every situation a command for them to pray?

Why is it important to also have others pray for us?

Read Matthew 21:21-22

How does what Jesus say pair with what James is saying?

Read James 5:19-20

How does this differ from when we talked about not judging others a few weeks ago?

Why do you think James ends his letter with this section?

Read Matthew 18:15

How does this add to what James is asking us to do?

Talk About It

Confession is a vulnerable place for everyone. Share about your experience of confessing your sins. What has it looked like for you? And what was the response of others? Have you ever had someone pray for you and reassure you of God's forgiveness? How did you experience God in that?

Have you ever had a conversation with someone who was walking away from their faith? How did it go? What have you learned from that? Or what questions do you still have about what that looks like?

Live It

Talk through what it would look like for you to confess your sins to someone else. Who is someone you could go to? What are your biggest barriers?

GO DEEPER

use these questions for further study

Share with the Group

What is your coping mechanism for when life is hard? What are you most likely to do when you are feeling cheerful?

Read James 5:13-18

In your own words, why is James' response to every situation a command for them to pray?

Why is it important to also have others pray for us?

Read Matthew 21:21-22

How does what Jesus say pair with what James is saying?

Read James 5:19-20

How does this differ from when we talked about not judging others a few weeks ago?

Why do you think James ends his letter with this section?

Read Matthew 18:15

How does this add to what James is asking us to do?

Talk About It

Confession is a vulnerable place for everyone. Share about your experience of confessing your sins. What has it looked like for you? And what was the response of others? Have you ever had someone pray for you and reassure you of God's forgiveness? How did you experience God in that?

Have you ever had a conversation with someone who was walking away from their faith? How did it go? What have you learned from that? Or what questions do you still have about what that looks like?

Live It

Talk through what it would look like for you to confess your sins to someone else. Who is someone you could go to? What are your biggest barriers?

FIRST COVENANT CHURCH - RIVER FALLS
www.rfcov.org